Yesterday was a quiet day at the Country club, but many persons from Flint availed themselves of the opportunity to take dinner and lunch which was served in the evening at the club. The golf links were inspected by the visitors and also the grounds around the club.

Among those present yesterday were Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Travis, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Whiting, Mr. and Mrs. H. Dalton and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Rankin, Miss Caroline Rankin and Mr. Rankin's brother and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Cumings, Mr. and Mrs. A. Champion, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Chevrolet, Dr. C. B. Burr, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Miller, Miss Blanche Miller, Charles Lippincott, Alex Carroll, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cumings, Joseph Begole, Dr. and Mrs. F. D. Clarke, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Braman, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Davison, Edward Kapp, Miss Cornelia Bassett, J. D. Dort, M. C. Hutchins, J. L. Pierce and J. C. Johnson.

There will be something doing for the club members every Wednesday evening and occasionally a function will be arranged for an extra night. A committee has been arranged among the women club members and it is planned to give afternoon functions in the near future.

While inspecting the grounds of the club yesterday in company with A. Champion, Louis Chevrolet stepped on an uncertain log and was precipitated into the creek. Aside from a thorough drenching Mr. Chevrolet is none the worse for the mishap.

The next function at the club will party Wednesday evening.
